

God will send His angels - Kees Kraaijenoord

When the sun no longer shines

And the stars begin to fall

Heaven will tremble for the lord of all

When he's sweeping through the clouds

Then we all will see his face

The messiah is coming to take his place

God will send his angels

wherever love is found

They will lead us home

to holy ground

God will send his angels

wherever love is found

They will lead us home

to holy ground

Face the future filled with hope

And believe the word that lives

A crucified saviour

And a Father who forgives

Seek His spirit day by day

While your life and breath remain

Your tears will be wiped away when Jesus comes to reign

God will send his angels
wherever love is found
They will lead us home
to holy ground

God will send his angels
wherever love is found
They will lead us home
to holy ground

They will lead us home
They will lead us home
They will lead us home
to holy ground

6X:

God will send his angel s
wherever love is found
They will lead us home
to holy ground

God will send his angel s
wherever love is found
They will lead us home
to holy ground
